SAILING IN SLOVENIA

The Bay of Piran is a great starting point for sailing and cruising around the Adriatic, as well as for exploring the interior of Slovenia. The coast region enraptures nautical guests with its friendly ports, attractive destinations in their hinterland, and the nearby karst region with its unique points of interest.

On the Slovene coast of the Adriatic Sea, there are modern marinas in Portorož, Koper, and Izola, where there is also a special yachting center devoted to technical services in the shipyard. All the marinas supply fuel, and there are fuel pumps located on the public piers in Piran and Izola. On the Slovene coast, the sea border crossing points in Koper and Piran are open year-round, and the border post in Izola operates from May to October.

Slovenia boasts the largest international nautical salon on the Adriatic: Internautica, which attracts numerous exhibitors to Portorož from Slovenia and abroad every May.

The Bay of Piran attracts sailing enthusiasts. Yachts and sailboats rental is possible all along the coast. Proof of sailing qualifications is necessary, but yachts can also be hired together with an experienced captain. There are several sailing schools on the coast as well as yacht excursions. Many Slovene lovers of the sea acquired their first sailing experience on lakes in the clubs that organize courses for captains, navigation courses, and sailing-schools far from the coast...

Vessels arriving in the territorial waters of Slovenia from abroad may land only at the docks of the international border crossings in Koper, Piran and in Izola (seasonal border crossing). Upon mooring the vessel, the vessel, its crew, and the passengers must be registered with the border authorities. The following documents are needed for the procedure: the original documents for the vessel (proof of ownership of the vessel or authorization for its use), the captain's certificate of qualification to operate the vessel and identity documents of people on the vessel.

Visitors with permanent residence abroad may temporarily import a private vessel which is registered abroad exempt from paying customs duties. In the event that the yacht certificate is not valid they may apply for an examination at the Koper Harbourmaster. When the vessel which is taken by land enters the territorial waters of Slovenia it must be registered with the Maritime Administration of the Republic of Slovenia or with the Customs Office.

The Piran bay is a friendly starting point for excursions across the Adriatic. On the Slovene coast of the Adriatic there are modern marinas in Portorož, Koper and Izola (in Izola there is also a special Yacht Center for technical services) available to the nautical tourist – they all received the Blue Flag European sign for ecology. All marinas provide fuel supply, and the fuel stations are also at public piers in Piran and Izola. All through the year two marine border crossings are open in Koper and Piran, and from May to October the border crossing in Izola.

Slovenia is a relatively small country in area, tucked into a mountainous corner between Austria, Italy, Hungary and the Adriatic Sea. Everything in Slovenia is in abundance: the majestic Alps with their glacial valleys, rivers, and lakes, plenty of forests, mysterious karst caves, the warm Adriatic. From the steep slopes of the Alps you can reach the world of olives and vineyards in less than three hours. Slovenia's natural features and historical sites offer plenty of variety for a holiday.

You can explore the underground world of grottoes, walk in the clean mountain air of Triglav national park, climb the peaks of the Julian Alps, admire medieval treasures of old cities and towns and enjoy their museum, concerts, international festivals, fairs, and events, or lay on spectacular golf courses. Try your luck in casinos, enjoy the culinary arts and wines of Slovenia.

The contrast of Slovenia's landscape surprises first time visitors, all within the country's 20.256 square kilometers. About fifty kilometers from the capital, Ljubljana, are the Julian Alps, where fairy tale Lake Bled glistens; the Postojna Caves, the largest in Europe, are 35 minutes' drive from the capital on a modern expressway; Portorož, a sunny seaside resort, is just over 100 kilometers from Ljubljana.

If you are looking for a peaceful, value-laden destination with everything "mountains, lakes, seashore, ski resorts, health spas, historic cities and villages, castles and churches" then discover Slovenia, the beautiful country on the sunny side of the Alps. Welcome!

TREASURE HUNT

A treasure hunt is a map-based experience that the entire team must solve. As in the workplace, smaller teams must succeed at their tasks before the entire company can reach its goal - opening the treasure-filled chest! Derived from the Scandinavian activity of Orienteering, where participants find flags in the woods with a map and compass, the Treasure Hunt uses a custom-made map (indoors and out) that leads teams to trivia questions, riddles and group adventures.
